Chief Operating Officer YG1

We chose SAVOYE and its WMS because they are an experienced, competent, and international partner capable of implementing digital solutions for our warehouse alongside us.

Specializing in industrial tooling solutions, YG-1 is an internationally renowned company with multiple R&D centers, production units, commercial offices, and logistics warehouses worldwide.

TO SUPPORT ITS DEVELOPMENT, THE
COMPANY MAINTAINS A SUSTAINABLE AND EVOLVING PARTNERSHIP WITH SAVOYE.

Due to accompany its French subsidiary in the modernization of its logistics platform, the South Korean company has chosen to rely on SAVOYE's expertise. YG-1 aimed to implement a WMS capable of securing its stocks, managing references, and optimizing and ensuring the reliability of order preparation, while also improving inventory processes.

With an IT team based in Korea, YG-1 sought a provider capable of international operations and ensuring seamless integration with its SAP ERP.

The challenge? To propose an EAI (Enterprise Application Integration) facilitating communication between the WMS and the group's IT tools to enhance remote work. SAVOYE's adaptability, responsiveness, and international presence were decisive factors in winning the tender. SAVOYE's WMS in SaaS mode will cover all warehouse flows: from receiving to shipping, including storage, kitting, and order preparation. By 2025, YG-1's French subsidiary plans to invest in automation alongside its new logistics partner.

"YG-1 aims to become the leading supplier of cutting tools by 2035. A key element in achieving this goal is the complete digitization of our European distribution center. Seeking to partner with an experienced, competent, reliable, and international provider capable of implementing digital solutions for our warehouse, we chose SAVOYE," concludes Filippo Mecacci, Chief Operating Officer of YG1.
